The Coca-Cola Company's New HQ in Apex, NC

Customer Overview

The Coca-Cola Company's new headquarters and distribution center in Apex, NC represents a strategic move to consolidate two former offices into a single, state-of-the-art facil-ity. This transition is designed to improve operational efficiency, collaboration, and logistics under one roof.  The facility features enhanced sustainable building specifications that yield zero landfill waste and create as little environmental impact as possible, reflecting The Coca-Cola Company's commitment to sustainability and innova-tion. Beyond its environmental focus, the new head-quarters demonstrates The Coca-Cola Company's appreciation for its workforce by providing a modern, welcoming facility that fosters a safe, efficient, and collaborative working environment.

To achieve this vision, The Coca-Cola Company required a partner to be able to support its robust infrastructure with struc-tured cabling, advanced security, and AV to support their evolving business needs.
Conflict

As a ground-up build, this project required a comprehensive technology design and implementation strategy to ensure seamless integration of:

• Structured cabling for high-perfor-mance connectivity to support a modern, data-driven workplace.

• Access control and CCTV for security and operational visibility.

• Audio-visual solutions to enable seamless communication and collaboration across teams.

• Innovative new technology from CommScope, marking the first-ever installation of this solution in a live environment.

The project also required careful plan-ning and execution, as the transition from the two former offices was struc-tured to ensure minimal disruption to operations.
Resolution

Pavion provided an end-to-end technology solution, including:

• Design and installation of structured cabling, ensuring a high-speed and reliable network backbone.

• Access control and CCTV systems, enhancing security for employees and assets.

• Custom AV solutions, enabling seamless communication and collaboration across teams.

• A first-of-its-kind CommScope technology implementation, setting a new industry benchmark.

Results and Impact

The new Coca-Cola Company HQ officially opened at the end of last year, with employees and operations gradually transitioning into the space. This phased approach ensured that every aspect of the infrastructure was tested and optimized before full occupancy.

• Successful deployment of an industry-first CommScope solution, positioning The Coca-Cola Company's HQ at the forefront of innovation.

• Seamless integration of security, AV, and structured cabling, creating a high-functioning, connected workspace.

• Positive feedback from The Coca-Cola Company and the General Contractor, affirming Pavion's ability to deliver on a complex, large-scale project.

• Collaboration with CommScope on a White Paper, showcasing the benefits and use cases of the ground-breaking solution for future projects.

Conclusion

The new The Coca-Cola Company HQ in Apex, NC is more than just a distribution center—it's a cutting-edge facility built for the future. Pavion's expertise in structured cabling, se-curity, and AV integration played a key role in bringing this vision to life. By delivering an innovative, scalable, and secure technology infrastructure, we've helped The Coca-Cola Company create an environment that will support its operations for years to come.
